WHAT THEY HAVE THEY HOLD

With a billion and a half dollars on deposit
in the banks, private citizens of Canada only bought $10,000,000 of a recent Dominion bond issue of $85,000,000. The reason, it is said, is that the money is not to be taken up by banks and private corporations.

It does not follow that the private citizens own the Government to go "broke," do not know that Government bonds are a good buy, or held off in hope that the rate will be offered. In most cases they undoubtedly kept their money in the banks because they fear they may not be able to meet their taxes and household expenses.

A billion and a half dollars works out at only $150 per head of the population of Canada; a small enough margin of ready money to stand between any family and distress in these days of cut wages and uncertain employment, or between a merchant and failure in a time of dis-trade. A good many Canadians of course had and have larger deposits than this. But a far larger number have none at all, and their predicament is a warning to the more fortunate ones to keep their money where they can lay hands on it at any time.

As matters stand, the Government and the banks are swapping notes to keep each other going, while the public are hanging onto what cash they have with a lively apprehension that they will need it if things keep going as they are.

HOW ABOUT THESE TAX
ARRARS?

Something was heard but nothing done at meetings of last year's city council about consolidating the tax arrears and giving those with the default opportunity to clear these away by interim payments spread over a suitable length of time. This year's council should take up that matter, the sooner the better, so that if a practicable scheme can not be worked out.

Under the present arrangement the whole question of arrears is just "drifting." Periodically the clerks in the tax collector's office go over the accounts and add a few more dollars
penalty to the unpaid balances and penalties already recorded, and the matter goes along until the more dollars are added as penalties
the more hopeless the debt looks from the stand-point of the taxpayer, and, therefore, from the stand-point of the city.

It would be well to see if some plan can be arranged that would offer the debtor an inducement to undertake the clearing up of his arrears. That has been found to be effective in collecting current taxes even before they are due. It might produce results also in the way of getting in back taxes, even in the way of depleted tax-payer incomes.

At any rate the present system, or lack of system, is not bringing in the money, and it is worth considering whether a change of method
would not be more successful.

THIS IS NO JOKE

Promoter Bennett says he has been blamed
for the grasspoppers, the drought in the west,
an outbreak of plague, an epidemic of influenza,
bad crops, and our lack of markets.

Our Premier should not try to be funny.
Nature cast him in for a bad time for that.
And the evils he enumerates, with others he did not name, are too real and too disastrous to be brushed aside by a joke.

Apparently Mr. Bennett believes, or wants his hearers to believe, that "our lack of markets" like the grasspoppers, the bad crops and the flu, is a matter over which he has no control. It "just happens" that we cannot sell our wheat and other products; as it just happens that the grasspoppers came along, the bad crops befell us and the flu broke out.

If our Premier can really believe that he is probably the only person in Canada who can,
and he has a remarkably good head for such visions with which to do business in the political realm.

His convictions on the subject were quite different in 1930. Then he very definitely believed that he could do something about enlarging our marketing abroad. He was going to "blast" a way into foreign markets which he did not think our goods or did not take them on terms suitable to Mr. Bennett. He has been singing on his blustering opinions for three years.

With the result that in the last year we exported goods to the value of $50,000,000.
In 1930 we exported goods to the value of $1,200,
000,000. Facemans as he may choose to be, Mr.
Bennett cannot laugh that off.

A RECOVERY PROGRAM

The National Construction Council of Canada has formulated the most directly comprehensive,
and the most promising recovery scheme that has been put before the Government and people of Canada since the depression closed down upon us.

The Council is a voluntary and non-official association of organizations interested in construction enterprise of many kinds throughout Canada, and its recommendations are based on a survey of facts and conditions, and supported by figures to buttress the contention that a revival of constructive undertaking offers the best chance to break the dead-end of idleness and business moving again.

Construction in Canada has dropped from $577,000,000 in 1929 to $46,000,000, the present
annual rate. It is held that since the beginning of 1930 some $225,000,000 worth of engineering
works of various kinds have been postponed, besides $175,000,000 worth of building work.

Proof is offered that in 1932 some 300,000
men found direct employment in constructive trades, and that at least 400,000 men were indirectly employed, in the preparation of materials, the making of supplies and tools, etc.
The opinion is offered that 600,000 men could be set at work in overhauling this large area-
age of postponed construction if it were possible to obtain the funds at reasonable rates of interest.

That is the point at which the assistance of the Dominion is asked. Unless the public credit is put behind the provinces and municipalities,
and used to make credits available, low interest rates for national industry, this great branch of national industry must remain paralyzed. The industry simply cannot get going under its own power.

This proposal has been put before the Dominion Government, and what will come of it hangs on the hand of at least Mr. Oliver, as yet not waiting for a recovery program, but at least a definite and considered suggestion of one which would set the nation's resources to work employed, with far-reaching results in the expansion of employment and the revival of business.

Edmonton's council for next year consists of:
Mayor Short, and Councillors Fraser, Claring, Ryland, and Johnston.

J. K. Kennedy, of the firm of Kennedy and Hyndman, returned last night from Montreal.
He was the chief collector of the office.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

With thousands of teacup readers, palmists, numerologists and astrologists making a living in heavy reliance upon the future, it is not surprising that the future is the subject of much poering into the future by the aid of tea-leaves,
the creases of the hand, the letters of one's name and the planetary system. I am rather surprised with common knowledge of the Biblical story of Joseph and Pharaoh in the wheat crisis of 1715 B.C., that some of the would-be seers-for-profit haven't turned to the interpretation of dreams.

A specialist in dreams told me that he always studies among other things, the dreams of a patient has. Sometimes he has found in them a clue to a hidden ailment. A kinswoman of mine has on three occasions dreamt of the victim deaths of members of the family at the time of their happening abroad, days or weeks before the news arrived. The pathological dream is understood, and the dream is not a mere telematic powers some people possess are in their greatest receptive condition when the receiving mind is free from the distractions of the day.

Outside of these two kinds of dreams I support that all others are the result of mental disorder through indigestion or other disturbances. Still, they give some of the ladies who can read your whole life's secrets and ambitions in a few tea-leaves, a larger scope for their imagination.

I had an awful jumble of a dream last night
that interests me because I not only dreamt, but dreamed I dreamed. I had a dream discussed the other dream. What an opportunity for a modern Joseph! My mundane explanation is that it was a combination of the dream I and three signs I ate before retiring, plus a copy of Harper's as a bed-book, and the disturbance
of my mind the next morning.

"ACE" BAILEY'S INJURIES HAVE PARALLEL HERE

City Man Still Recovering From Skull Fracture

A parallel case to that of Irvin "Ace" Bailey, upon whom Dr. John E. Hodgson performed a trephining operation in Boston Thursday afternoon is that of a man in a city hospital who was involved in a truck and train crash some months ago.

Both suffered fractures on the side of the skull with resultant brain contusion and secondary hemorrhage of the brain. A press dispatch stated that Ace Bailey suffered primary hemorrhage. This is incorrect as a primary hemorrhage causes immediate unconsciousness, but in both cases unconsciousness came on several hours after the skull fracture.

680 SEIZED IN PLOT TO SLAY BALKAN KINGS

400 Arrested in Belgrade Alone, as Bulgarian Ruler Visits

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Dec. 13.—Uncovering an alleged Macedonian plot to assassinate the kings of Yugoslavia and Bulgaria in a single bombing, police today arrested more than 600 suspects in a country-wide roundup.

The plot was said to have been laid in connection with the four-day visit here of King Boris and Queen Giovanna of Bulgaria, who are being entertained in great state by King Alexander and Queen Marie of Yugoslavia.

More than 400 of the prisoners were taken in Belgrade, and 200 in the vicinity.

The visiting king and queen arrived yesterday, were accompanied by the Bulgarian premier, Nicolas Muschaffoff. Negotiations of a peace treaty was understood to be under way.

Elaborate state plans for the four-day visit were in apparent emphasis of a new period of reconciliation between Yugoslavia and Bulgaria, which have been estranged since the Balkan war of 1912.

The various dances, the good work in various lines, and the untiring effort to aid sick members and their families was dealt with. The work of the organization during the summer fair at the Old-Timers' cabin was stressed.

During the year the Grain Raiser had called no fewer than 36 members, of whom 11 were life members. Thirteen executive meetings were held and most memoranda of the executive attended. All the making total 17,200 names.

Subcommittees were served and the meeting concluded with dancing.

Predicts Great American War Opens In 1934

During 1934 the government of the United States of America will lay the foundation for the greatest war ever conducted under the American flag, according to a brochure entitled, "1934—The War," issued by the Grand Lodge of the B'nai B'rith Order, A.M.O.R.E., national headquarters at San Jose, California, and received officially by Stanley M. Dewar of 1026 1/2 street, local commissioner of the society.

The brochure states that the great war will last probably seven years. It will be a war principally between the citizens of the United States. It will be the world's unique war, it is declared, because it will be a war of construction instead of destruction. It is to be a war against the greatest of enemies—corruption, crime, syndicalism and class bitterness. It will not be fought with machine guns or poison gas, but with the weapons of new ideals, tolerance, development of culture and freedom of individual expression.

The brochure prophesies the eventual results of this unique conflict. It states, according to Mr. Dewar, that President Franklin D. Roosevelt will be the last president of the United States to function and supervise affairs of that nation in the traditional manner or under the conventional rules. The new form of government will be an intelligent dictatorship.

It predicts the formation of an anti-race movement, which will have chapters in every community and whose duty will be to instruct the younger people in the fundamentals of citizenship. It asserts that the liquor industry will face a problem because of the desire for liquor not anticipated by the manufacturers. It declares the department of justice activities will be broadened to investigate the resignations of state officials in the enforcement of the law.

The brochure concludes with the statement that the real power of the country in the future will be placed in the hands of those who have shown and demonstrated the ability to govern and direct their own personal affairs and make a success of their lives. It will place those who are indifferent about their own progress and who in the past have suffered a stroke, Mr. Dewar was born at St. Peter, Minn.

REGINA, Dec. 13.—J. J. Quinn, manager of the J. L. Case Co. Regina branch of the Saskatchewan Fish and Game League, died last night after suffering a stroke. Mr. Quinn was born at St. Peter, Minn.

COMMERCIAL TAX PAYMENTS

Scheme Put Into Effect Late Last Year to be Continued

Taxpayers will be given an opportunity of paying their taxes in advance for a limited period early in 1934 and receiving a discount on such payments. It was decided by the aldermanic board at a special meeting, Thursday afternoon, Ald. J. W. Fry, on the recommendation of Thomas Walker, city assessor and tax collector, moved the necessary motion which was carried.

This preparatory scheme for current year on the suggestion of Ald. Herbert Baker. It extended until January 16, 1933, and resulted in the city collecting $500,000 in 1933 and property taxes.

DISCOUNT ALLOWED
A discount of 2 1/2 per cent. was granted on the property taxes.

The idea behind the scheme was that if the city could raise a sufficient sum to provide for financing during the early part of the year, and before the first instalment came due, if a sufficient sum could be raised through advance payments of taxes, the city would not have to borrow the usual amount from the bank.

The plan also provides that the taxpayers receive the benefit of a discount equal to the bank interest rate to the four per cent. rate. Ald. J. H. Ogilvie advanced a plan whereby the taxes would be paid in monthly instalments. No decision was made on this proposal, it being explained that taxpayers always had the right to pay any amount on their taxes at any time during the year, whether it be through the preparatory system, monthly payments or the quarterly system.

Water Colors On Display At University

Carnegie's Exhibition Has Many Fine Examples Of Moderns

A Carnegie trust exhibition of water-colors loaned by the Canadian Society of Artists is at present drawing in thousands to the hall of science and four Arts at the University of Alberta.

Some fifty drawings make up the collection and include examples of every variety of method, design and technique. Many of them have been submitted by artists of the most strikingly modern type.

Among the striking examples is "Morning Mist," by F. Carmichael, a striking study of a rock-bound coast in early spring with the mists ascending from the water to the rolling clouds above the cliff-tops. There is a marked sense of motion and atmosphere—and the extreme difficulty of presenting such a subject in a water-color medium has been handled well.

"Autumn Tapestry," by E. C. Lister, is a view of a landscape, achieved by blending flat masses of color, a harmonious and very beautiful effect. The artist has achieved, with suggests at once the magnificent and yet subdued glow of autumn foliage.

Several drawings showing the influence of the modern manner—play of group of seven—are on display. This influence is manifest in an attempt to simplify and create by suggestion. One of the most strikingly lovely is "Landscape," by C. H. A. Smith, a view of a landscape with a sense of balance and harmony, and the perfection of the use of light and shadow make it a thing of beauty.

"Fruit Land," by Jean Forbes, is another very charming piece in the modern manner—working up as it does, a symphony out of the blocks of light and shadow made by the sunlight falling upon the roofs of factories and tenement buildings as seen from above.

STUDIES IN DESIGN

Interesting studies in design are to be found in many of the pictures. In "The Struggle," by Joachim Gaster, a fantastic pattern has been wrought out of the twisted branches of an old tree and the remaining clumps of foliage on its branches.

The exhibition is to be on display under the direction of Professor Jas. Adam for the next week, and well merits a visit as every piece in it has something of worthy note, either for itself or as an example of a type. There is included in the group "Young Canadian," by Charles Comfort, a work of tremendous power and genius that has excited great interest wherever it has appeared throughout Canada, and that fascinated visitors to the Edmonton Museum of Arts when it was on display in a recent exhibition there.

ENOUGH FOR THREE MEALS

Beans, already economical on the family menu, offer further saving if cooked in quantity sufficient for three meals. Boil them in water with a ham bone or salt pork. Serve first in their liquid. Keep those not used in a cool place and then bake enough for dinner the next day, seasoning with molasses, a little mustard and onion. Those not baked can be used for bean soup on the day following.

Fashion Leads to the Colorful Lady Lou

Formal hats are the last word in individuality this winter... they're as mad as can be... and just as chic!

The "Lady Lou" mode, inspired by Mae West, goes much farther than small feather fences. Extravagant, wide-brimmed models, to be worn with your evening and dinner clothes, have sweeping plumes.

The "Lady Lou" picture hat (illustrated here), which all Paris is sponsoring for wear with your dinner and evening clothes, is of black velvet. A feather fancy of formal, graceful swoops from the back of the crown down over a wide brim. It's a 1933 version of a 1906 fashion and just the kind of a hat to go with the new hour-glass figure mode.

Preparing Nuts For The Holiday Season

By SISTER MARY

Perhaps the custom of serving nuts at the end of holiday dinners is a survival of the pioneer days when hickory nuts, walnuts and hickorys were gathered from the forest and treasured as a special treat for festive occasions.

Excellent nuts are available at all candy shops and most of the "corner drug stores," but some make them just as salty as we ourselves like them.

There are three ways to accomplish the same end—by roasting in the oven, pan frying and deep-frying. For all nuts except peanuts, the roasting method is a more crisp and tender nut than either of the other methods.

BLANCH BEFORE SALTING

All nuts with a tough outer skin like almonds must be blanched before salting. To blanch nuts, pour boiling water to more than cover them, after salting, of course, and let stand five or ten minutes or until the skins slip off easily. Drain and cover with cold water. Rub or pinch off the skins.

It will take about 2 minutes to fry nuts in deep fat. Heat fat in a deep fat kettle to 350 degrees F. on a fat thermometer. Be sure the nuts are free from all moisture and spread them in a frying basket. Immerse in the hot fat and fry until a delicate brown. Drain thoroughly on brown paper and sprinkle with salt. Spread out to cool and become crisp.

Spiced nuts add a pleasing variety and are browned the same way as the salted ones, the only difference being in the seasoning. After deep-frying, sprinkle with a mixture of cinnamon, cloves and allspice with (lemon) salt and sprinkle over 1 cup browned nuts.

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Baked beans, cereal, cream, crisp broiled bacon, toasted corned beef.
LUNCHEON: Beef, both with rice, lettuce, rice filled with apple and cheese salad, fry bread, molasses cookies, milk, tea.
DINNER: Boiled corned beef with rice, creamed potatoes, creamed turnips, peas, salad, caramel custard, milk, coffee.

Hints For The Pie Maker

If you make pies often the following suggestions will prove to be a great time-saver as well as eliminating the possibility of occasional failure, because you conform to the time to measure ingredients carefully and accurately.

At your leisure, measure and sift a large amount of flour, baking powder and salt, adding to the proportions of your favorite recipe.

Mix in the fat and place in a covered container in a cool place until needed.

Each time you wish to bake a pie, all that is necessary is to take out the mixture and add just enough water to hold the ingredients together, and your pie crust is ready for the oven.

It is practical to mix enough of the mixture at one time to last for several weeks.

Following is the proportion to use for pie crust: For each cup of flour use one-third teaspoon of salt, one-third teaspoon of baking powder and one-third cup of fat.

What New York Is Wearing

By HELEN WILLIAMS

Portrait "Marigold"

Of June Clyde Is Sister Of Actor

CAMROSE, Dec. 15.—"Marigold," that charming play produced in Edmonton three seasons ago when June Clyde established herself in the hearts of Edmonton audiences is the title of a portrait by David Kwart, of Miss Clyde, and seen in the collection of paintings now in the Carnegie Museum of Art and the National Gallery at Ottawa.

June Clyde, the Hollywood actress, is the sister of David Clyde, who is now in Canada, playing with the British Players in Edmonton, and in the distinguished family is also Andy Clyde, the Hollywood comedian. Their father was famous for his clever impersonations.

Scottish paintings were exhibited to the public in the Carnegie Museum Tuesday evening.

This collection of varied and lovely, altogether charming, and portraits, was brought here under the auspices of the Carnegie Trust committee of the University of Alberta. Also on exhibition were a number of other paintings of exceptional merit, by Ontario artists, which were lent through the courtesy of the Edmonton Museum of Art, and the National Gallery in Ottawa.

Mr. R. W. Hedley, M. B. Edue, was an interesting talk on the contrasts and similarities of the artists' treatment in achieving certain effects in the various paintings.

Scenes of old St. Andrews, of the First of Clyde, Aberfoyle, brought a thrill to the Scots, while Christmas scenes attracted most Canadians.

It is awfully swanky to wear your fur coat inside. I mean you can't see your coat or tape on the outside and lined with fur. Many Ruff presents a cape ensemble in silk with lining.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE - - By Ahern

THE TZYMATES

I'm going to see if it can bark. I was born I've much preferred And then he pitched the little dog, and got a sudden thrill. Instead of barking, I jumped out of Duncy's hands and bobbed about. Said Duncy, "Well, just let it jump. Just watch! It'll show you now." "Why, that's one of those wind-up toys that's made to tickle girls and boys," said Cappy. "It will soon run down, and then our fun is over. And sure enough, the wren dog stopped, and on its little side it flopped. "It looks," said Windy. "Put it back. Don't wind it any more."

FOR LEAGUES AGREE TO ALLOW HOCKEY BALL

American League's Sphere Is Pattern Accepted At Meet

Seek to Have All Minors Use Same Baseball As Big Leaguers

By PAUL NICKELSON

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—The major leagues Thursday voted to adopt a uniform ball as a climax to one of the most important series of meetings in baseball history.

The new ball, heavier than the one used during the past few years in the National League and patterned almost exactly along the specifications of the American League sphere, will make its debut in next spring's training camps. It will be the only ball recognized or used in the majors.

MINORS MAY FOLLOW

A campaign also will be started at once to get all minor leagues to use the same ball. The Pacific Coast League already has voted to adopt it, while the International and Texas leagues were almost certain to follow suit, as they employed the National League ball last season.

The presidents of the two leagues voted to have all Sunday doubleheaders, until after June 15 each season, permission also was granted to John D. Shibe, vice-president of Philadelphia Athletics, to take an all-star team recruited from the American League ranks on a winter exhibition tour after the close of the 1934 season.

SALARIES GUARANTEED

An amendment also was added to the constitution, requiring any major league club to guarantee the salary of a player sent to a minor league team. Thus, if a major league team sends a player to the minors and the minor league team disbands, the major league club must set the salary stipulated in the contract.

The player must, "must set the salary for the whole season." The sale of stars during the past two years, was unusually quiet but a trio of Wednesday's famous stars were released by New York Yankees.

VETERANS LEAVE

Herb Pennock, 31 years in the American League, Joe Sewell, an American League star for 15 seasons, and Cy Perkins, one of the game's greatest leaguers, were released by the Yankees. Pennock, a coach last season, immediately signed up in a similar capacity with the Detroit Tigers.

Pennock moved on a solo road to Detroit. Pennock, wealthy in his own right, planned to retire from baseball, while it was understood the Yankees would find managerial or coaching job in the minors for Sewell.

Fluke Goal Wins For Leafs

The Toronto Maple Leafs, confident best coach Gardiner of the Chicago Blackhawks by shooting the puck past him in the orthodox manner—that is to say from in front of him. But Charlie Conacher of the Leafs discovered a new way to beat him from behind. When Charlie got behind the Chicago goal-line he shot the puck out in front.

The rubber goal was in some manner deflected, and when Gardiner found it was lodged in the corner of his net. It gave the Leafs a 1-0 victory over the Blackhawks.

The illustration shows Gardiner, who was on the ice along with Paul Thompson, while Tuffy Gorman lay the puck over the goal line.

The charging Leafs are Red Herber, left and Harvey Jackson.

Brooks got right in on Roberts 1 he saved. He got in again and scored the tenth goal just before the break.

Hodges of Olds handled the game quite satisfactorily. The next home game will be with Stettler on Tuesday, December 19.

Olds—Roberts, McMahon, Boer, Gooder, McGill, L. Gooder, Hamilton, Black, Hansen, Becker, Hood.

Lacombe—Jenner, Carruthers, Laidlaw, Penman, Brooks, McCaughy, Wilson, Hemmery, Hampton, Evans.

Caferrey—Hodges, Olds.

Brooks tricked Roberts for number four and McCaughy got an assist on a pass from Penman. H. Gooder, ended the period with his last shot, but Lacombe held them off until five minutes before the end of the period, when the referee allowed Olds a goal on a shot that missed the net.

McMahon scored the goal, but he claimed it went in and came out of the Olds team, but the referee ruled the net was empty.

The game was a well-fought argument, but the referee ruled the net was empty.

Pennock scored on a solo rush to Detroit. Pennock, wealthy in his own right, planned to retire from baseball, while it was understood the Yankees would find managerial or coaching job in the minors for Sewell.
